Continuous efforts to keep in pace with the exploration of making life visible to the extent to have an insight into the most invisible aspect of life principle has brought Homoeopathy to the level where diagnosis and selection of medicine become more accurate and scientific. No where in the medicine has discovered so minute observation of human behaviors than in Homoeopathic field.

Arriving India popularity of Homoeopathy became more concentrated in West Bengal, Bihar and Utter Pradesh. We find Homoeopathy to be grass rooted in the remotest village in Bihar. This speaks of the depth of understanding about Homoeopathy in these states. No doubts these state have contributed to explore into the depth of Homoeopathy providing new hidden mystery of Homoeopathy. Experiencing and realizing the science with adaptation of new technology to make our practice more adaptable for healing the suffering humanity need constant learning and experimentation. Medicine is not a static science. It has to be experienced and share experiences with other. It is a constant learning process.
